for an international scientific conference

The Faculty of Philology, the University of Montenegro, through the Jean Monnet Module Multidisciplinary Studies on Integration and Migration through Intercultural Dialogue (2021–2024) announces a call for the submission of scientific papers for international scientific conference:

Intercultural dialogue – migration, integration, minority communities, to be held on October 18, 2024 at the University of Montenegro, as well as a call for the submission of student essays.

The international scientific conference, realized as part of the final activities of the Jean Monnet Module – EMIMI which is co-funded by The European Education and Culture Executive Agency – EACEA at the European Commission, aims to promote multidisciplinary research and innovations, also to establish links between research and society through a proactive role at the local, national and international level, to encourage and support scientific research activity of the student population and young researchers, to create synergy and cooperation between different faculty units at the University of Montenegro as well as at the university level in a broader sense.

Scientific papers from all fields of humanities and social sciences are welcome that, through a studious research approach or theoretical analysis of general structures, phenomenologically refer to intercultural dialogue in the context of migration, integration, status of minority communities and ways of managing ethno-cultural pluralism in Montenegro.

We invite authors to submit works that, through empirical studies, will help to better understand the intercultural character of contemporary Montenegro, especially from the perspective of European integration and the affirmation of common values, principles of unity and diversity.

We encourage them to indicate in their research the awareness of European cultural identity and historical heritage, as well as the necessity of adopting European values for the further democratic development of Montenegrin society.

Call for Student Essays – In addition to the call for scientific papers, we are pleased to invite students of the University of Montenegro and other Montenegrin higher education institutions to submit original essays proposals (800–1200 words) as part of the call.
